Serious experience in Joomla, Drupal & Geeklog projects, plus any other CMS you may be using or planning to. Conversions from one CMS platform to another also available. Please ask for a custom quote.

Our design roster includes non-profits, ONGs, personal sites, businesses of all sizes, and government sites.

Our tool of choice is the Joomla CMS and we are often asked, "Why a CMS (Content Management System) for my website?"

A non-technical person often needs to be able to keep their own website up-to-date without having to call on a web developer to make changes every time. Of course there are some things that can only be done by a web developer, but for simpler tasks such as changing the wording of a paragraph, it is an unnecessary burden and expense for both parties if you have to get a developer to make the changes.

We offer fully user-managed websites that you can count on. But if you need to simply run your day to day business, we also offer complete maintenance packages to run your website for you.

All source code & development are yours and confidentiality is assured, starting with Private Nameservers for all our customers.
